

Community Choice Aggregation

Your Community, Your Power

A Community Choice Aggregation (CCA) is a program that allows municipalities to pool electricity demand to secure competitive supply rates and offer residents more options, with Freedom Energy partnering to provide greater choice, stability, and accountability in energy procurement while the utility continues delivering service.

COMMUNITY CHOICE AGGREGATION BENEFITS

Greater Community Buying Power

Municipalities aggregate demand to negotiate competitive electricity supply contracts.

Price Stability

CCA programs can help shield residents and businesses from market volatility through longer-term contracts.

Self-Funded Programs

Programs sustain themselves without drawing on town budgets.

Flexible Participation

Enrollment is automatic, but residents can opt out or rejoin at any time without penalties.

Support Renewable Energy

Communities may choose to include renewable energy in supply options to advance sustainability goals.

Consumer Protection and Oversight

CCA contracts, written and monitored by municipalities, provide transparency and safeguards.

Customized Energy Solutions

Each community tailors its program to reflect its priorities — whether cost control, renewable adoption, or energy choice.

CCA FAST FACTS

- Your utility continues billing; the CCA supply rate shows up as a line item.
- Utilities remain responsible for delivery, service, and outages.
- Participation is flexible: opt out anytime with no penalties.
